

Position: Mid Weight / Senior Interior Designer

NO ARCHITECT CV WILL BE CONSIDERED

Salary: Dependent on candidates experience
Hours: Full time
Start date: Immediately
Contract: Permanent
(London based candidates only)

An exciting small interior design firm, specialising in boutique projects across the board including, bars, nightclubs, restaurant, residential & hotel design, is seeking an ambitious and talented Design Team Leader to work on a range of innovative projects from small private clients to high profile international brands.

Supporting the design team, this person will be fully immersed at all levels of the design process on a daily basis managing their own projects from a design side. Duties of the Interior Designer will include:

- Designing, own projects from concept to completion with guidance
- Collaborating with other departments
- Compiling comprehensive FFE packages
- Delegating and reviewing team assignments
- Creating innovative designs or presentations
- Meeting & liaising directly with clients
- Detailing full drawing packs for construction
- Ensuring design quality and that design directives are followed

Functions of this role will also include:

- Fluent Vectorworks skills
- Fluent in Sketchup or other 3D Max/ Vray
- Expertise in 2D rendering using Adobe Photoshop
- Hand sketching abilities
- Strong graphic and layout design skills for presentation using Indesign
- A comprehensive understanding of construction technology
- FF&E knowledge and a high-end joinery and design detailing is imperative

Experience of at least 5 years working as an Interior designer is essential. The candidate must be able to ensure that work is pushing in a smooth and timely fashion and aligns with the expectations of the rest of the company and clients.

The position will have significant responsibility to design and coordinate the multiple projects running concurrently; ability to multi task is a must. The successful candidate must have experience working within a small company, running their own projects, preferably from a hospitality and residential design background.

A portfolio of work is necessary to show creative skills and FFE skills. Proficiency of Vectorworks for drawing and Adobe programmes for presentation is a must. A comprehensive understanding of construction technology, FF&E knowledge and a high-end joinery and detailing is imperative.

The successful candidate will have excellent communication and English language skills both written and oral, be flexible and dependable, be able to produce quality projects consistently, be able to resolve issues in a timely manner, effective supervisory and organisational skills, with an ability to delegate, be decisive, coordinate with our design & production team, be able to motivate self and team members and have great client facing skills.

Candidates must live within easy commute to our offices and must be available immediately.

To apply:

Please send your up to date CV & Portfolio to recruitment@shaunclarksonid.com clearly stating the position applied for in the email subject. Please also indicate your desired salary.